INT. schoolbus - DAY

Coleman plops in the seat next to SHAY.

COLEMAN

So, are we just gonna pretend like nothing happened this weekend?

SHAY

I've never done anything like that before.

COLEMAN

You'll get used to it.

SHAY

No, I won't. It's wrong.

COLEMAN

Hey, it's only stealing when you take stuff from regular people. It's different when you pocket junk from a big store.

SHAY

Look, I'm not a thief.

COLEMAN

You are now.

SHAY

No. I made a mistake, one time. I'm not shoplifting again.

COLEMAN

We're a good team, you and I. There's an electronic store on Main that has a cell phone display...

SHAY

No way. I'm not doing it.

COLEMAN

Yes you are.

SHAY

What? Who do you think you are?

COLEMAN

Or would you rather your parents find out about all the DVDs you swiped from Great Buy.

SHAY

You wouldn't.

COLEMAN

Try me.

SHAY

You think I'd go down without naming names?

COLEMAN

Pfft. My dad wouldn't care. He taught me everything I know.

SHAY

Who said anything about your dad? I'm talking about the cops. If they so much as KNOCK on my door, I'll make sure they end up kicking down YOUR door.

COLEMAN

Touché.

SHAY

They may find a couple of DVDs in my room, but what do you suppose they'll find in YOUR house?

COLEMAN

I like how you operate, Shay.

SHAY

So why don't we just forget this weekend ever happened?

COLEMAN

Nah, sorry, it don't work that way. See ya 'round, Shay.

Coleman gets up and leaves. Shay is clearly upset.
